

General Information

The Funchal Design Hotel is a four-star city hotel.

It offers 16 double rooms, and beds can be added to six of those.

Its renovation was a daring upgrading project entailing an expansion of the old building to achieve a perfect blend of past and present, by merging an attractive classic residence into the contrasting, modern architectural design of the new complex.

Great attention to design carries into the interiors, starting with its balanced and comfortable décor, designed by a renowned architect, and ending with its sober yet very comfortable room décor, some of which has been styled With unique, highly detailed decorative features.

Architecture and interior design make a difference in our hotel.
